

Texas Tech University

CS4354 Concepts of Database Systems

Assignment 05

Application for University Accommodation Office

I will not create too many requirements because I would like to see your creativity here.

But there are several tasks that you would like to consider:

1. Implement your database design (You are supposed to implement all the tables)
2. Develop an application to test your database design
3. Based on the “query transactions”, select five of them for the implementation.

Notes: if you would like to do the demonstration early, please show me your application first and then I will make a decision.